Rio Plantano International Biosphere Reserve

Wednesday, October 6, 2004 - 7:30 PM at the Idaho Falls Library

Tim Reynolds and his wife Patty, Ted Chu and other friends went on an eco-adventure in Honduras this spring. After flying to Honduras, they rode a bus to a trail head, and then walked ten miles to the river while their guides hauled the gear on horseback. Once they reached the river, the real adventure began: a twelve day raft trip through the Rio Plantano International Biosphere Reserve in the La Moskita area of northeastern Honduras. The Rio Platano area is the largest, most intact, tropical rainforest outside of South America. They rafted the Rio Platano through the center of the reserve from near its headwaters to the Caribbean coast, camping and birding along the way. Come join Tim and Ted on the river and learn about the habitats and wildlife of Honduras!

The presentation is open to the public and all outdoor enthusiasts are invited to attend. For more information contact programs@idahoalpineclub.org or check out the club website at www.idahoalpineclub.org or call D. Whitham at 520.1728.

President Speaks

Hi Everyone -

It's that time of year again for nominations to the IAC council for elections in November, and again we will be contacting you to ask you to volunteer to run. The Alpine Club, like all volunteer organizations, relies on its members to keep things going. Being on the council is not a huge commitment for anyone (except for our esteemed treasurer), and it's a way to contribute to continued functioning of the club. And you don't have to wait for the phone call, just contact me or any council member.

Our program this month shows some interesting country. I saw the presentation at the Audubon Club recently and it was really good. I'm looking forward to seeing it again, especially some of the rafting pictures!

Lastly, get out and enjoy Idaho's Indian summer.

Highway Clean-up October 30

It is once again that time to don the stylish bright orange vests that the Idaho highway department provides, to fill matching bright orange bags with all the trash accumulated over the winter on the IAC section of Highway 31 between mile posts 6 & 8. The highway department sent a note that the litter bags are now equipped with drawstrings instead of twist ties. Sturdy work boots and work gloves are required. Afterward, we are planning a potluck picnic. For more details and to sign up contact the Whithams at programs@idahoalpineclub.org or 524.6119.

Chocks and Nuts:

Lipsmackin' Backpackin' and Lipsmackin' Vegetarian Backpackin', by

Christine and Tim Conners

Christine has graciously given me permission to print recipes from these books in the IAC bulletin. The books are highly recommended and available at Idaho Mountain Trading and at Barnes and Noble. Both books have recipes for every meal of the day. The meals are light weight, nutritious, and made of food products that are generally easy to obtain. They provide a wonderful alternative to freeze dried meals or ramen noodles or power bars etc. In camp the recipes are easy to prepare. Mark and I's copy of Lipsmackin' Backpackin' is rather dog-eared and we have enjoyed every recipe we have tried thus far. We have just started looking at the recipes in Lipsmackin' Vegetarian Backpackin' and expect to enjoy that book as well. By the way, Christine says the Fry Brownies are to die for. This month's recipe is for breakfast or can eaten any time of the day:

Appalachian Apple Bannock

2 cups Bisquick

1/4 - 1/2 cup dehydrated apple cut into small pieces

1 T Margarine or butter per serving

Jam (optional)

At Home:

Mix together Bisquick and dehydrated apple. To make separate servings, place 1/2 cup of mix into each of four sandwich-size resealable plastic bags. Carry margarine or butter separately.

On the trail:

Add 2 T of water to one serving (one bag) then mix and knead with hands until dough is slightly thinner than normal biscuit dough. Melt 1 T margarine or butter in frying pan. Drop biscuit-size blobs into pan. Flatten slightly with spatula. Cook on low heat, turning once. Eat as is or with jam.

Weight per serving is 3.5 ounces.

Tip: Buy Ghee at a health food store. It is clarified butter and does not require refrigeration.

The yurts adjoin Harriman's extensive cross-country trail system and are only a short distance from the world famous Henry's Fork of the Snake River.
