4) Old Business:

Advertising Idaho Alpine Club in the Post Register

Karl Bohan ordered an ad for the April 1 Idaho Alpine Club general meeting in the Post Register.

The 1" X 3" horizontal ad ran on March 31, 2015, the day before the meeting. It advertised the featured speaker, Mike Adler, on his camping/hiking trip in Spitsbergen. Karl told the council that he was charged $30 for this ad. The council unanimously agreed to pay Karl for the full amount of the ads from the IAC funds. The council agreed to run two more ads the Tuesdays before the general meetings. The council also discussed that it would be helpful to have "Idaho Alpine Club" leading off the ad and in much larger print. The council also wants to keep "open to the public" and the time and place of the meetings. Karl said he would have these changes made to the upcoming newspaper ads.

Reminders for Renewals of Idaho Alpine Club Memberships

The council discussed their progress on phone call reminders to former IAC members. Overall, there were not a lot of positive responses. Sue Braastad mentioned that someone she called said they only sign up to raft with Greg Hulet. Karl offered to call Greg Hulet and offer assistance in organizing and rounding up enough people for future trips, help him get equipment loaded, and talk to him about setting up dates for future trips.

5) New Business:

Other Advertising for Idaho Alpine Club

Colleen Bohan agreed to research the Idaho Calendar on facebook to advertise the IAC General Meetings and outdoor activities. Sheila Kappel agreed to call and check about advertising in the "free community events" program on the Channel 3 or 8 newscasts. They will report their findings at the next council meeting.

Request for Mountain Bike Trails on Kelly Canyon and Buckskin-Morgan Ridge Maps

Ken Durstine gave the council a copy of the letter he sent to Tracey Hollingshead, District Ranger of the Caribou-Targhee National Forest. In it he requested they add "Pine Loop" and "Buckskin Morgan Ridge Trail" to the USFS summer trail maps as non-motorized trails designated for mountain bike use.
