Advertising the IAC in WikiFun

Sam Pole found that various activities are posted in WikiFun for free and they are categorized by zip codes of organizations and activities. Sam will further investigate to see if the IAC general meeting can be advertised in addition to our activities.

2012 Council Positions

All council members were given lists of IAC members to call about seeing who is interested in replacing council members for the year 2012. The council will bring their responses together at October's council meeting.

5) New Business:

Advance postings in IAC newsletter

It was decided by the council members to continue posting of events the same as always, since some events cannot be scheduled in great advance.

IAC Post Office Keys

It was unanimously voted on by the council members that the two keys to the IAC post office should be kept by the Treasurer and the Secretary of the IAC club. The Secretary will pick up the mail when the Treasurer is out of town. Jeff Coward will be turning over the second key to Susan McKinley.

Posting Bulletin on Facebook

Donna mentioned that it would save the IAC money if members retrieved the IAC monthly bulletin on Facebook, rather than through the mail. She discussed with members that during November's membership drive, the applications could request if the member would prefer to receive their bulletin on Facebook or in the mail.

Raising Membership Fee

Donna also brought up that with rising costs (especially rental of the library), that we should consider raising the price of membership by about $ 5.00. The council members decided to discuss this matter again at the October council meeting.
